

I've been a long-time believer in God, but I desired a relationship with Jesus. For the past several years, I talked about this desire, made attempts at Bible reading, signed up for plans, but nothing lasted. It wasn't until I finally made a move and signed up for Alpha that my walk began. Alpha immediately began answering the questions that I never took seriously enough to find answers for. Thursday night became a highlight of my week. Everybody in the group was excellent, and I learned so much. My desire for Jesus grew every week and has continued since. The Alpha group started me on daily Bible reading discipline, which has been a life-changing experience. I'm finally on the path and excited for every step.
